Hi [Recipient Name],

I hope you and your family are doing well! It has been a while since we last spoke, and I wanted to reach out just to say hello and see how everything is going with your home.

The real estate market in [Neighborhood/City Name] has been quite active lately. Whether you are curious about your property's current market value or just need a recommendation for a local contractor or landscaper, I am always here to help.

There is no pressure at all-I simply wanted to check in and let you know that I am still in the neighborhood if you ever need anything.

Wishing you the best,
