RE: Opinion Letter - California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) Readiness

Dear [Contact Name],

This opinion letter is provided at the request of [Company Name] (the "Company") regarding its compliance readiness with the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA).

1. Scope of Review

We have reviewed the Company's data processing activities, including but not limited to:

- Internal privacy policies and external-facing privacy notices.
- Data inventory and mapping of California resident personal information.
- Procedures for responding to Consumer Rights Requests (Access, Deletion, Correction, and Opt-Out).
- Service provider and third-party contractor agreements.
- Security measures for protecting personal information.

2. Opinion

Based on our review of the materials provided and the Company's current operational state, it is our opinion that as of [Date], the Company has implemented the necessary administrative, technical, and legal frameworks to be considered "CCPA Ready." Specifically:

- The Company provides the required "Notice at Collection."
- The Company maintains a functional method for consumers to exercise their privacy rights.
- The Company has updated its vendor contracts to include required data processing addendums.

3. Limitations and Assumptions

This opinion is limited to the laws of the State of California. It is based on the information provided by the Company. We assume that the Company will continue to operate in accordance with the documented procedures reviewed during our assessment.

4. Conclusion

We believe the Company is in substantial compliance with the requirements set forth by the CCPA/CPRA. Ongoing monitoring is recommended to account for any future regulatory changes by the California Privacy Protection Agency (CPPA).

Sincerely,

[Signature]
