Dear [Client Name],

It was a pleasure helping you with your real estate needs in [State A] back in [Year/Timeframe]. I hope you are doing well.

I am writing to share some exciting news. I am now a licensed real estate agent in both [State A] and [State B]. This expansion allows me to provide the same high level of service to clients moving between these two regions or looking for investment properties in either state.

As a past client, your trust means the world to me. If you know anyone-friends, family, or colleagues-who is considering buying or selling a home in either [State A] or [State B], I would be honored if you shared my contact information with them.

I have enclosed a few of my new business cards for your convenience. Please don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions about the current market or if there is anything I can do for you personally.

Thank you for your continued support.

Best regards,
