Dear [Patient Name],

We are writing to provide you with the results of your recent Hemoglobin A1C blood test performed on [Date of Test].

Your Result: [Result Percentage]%

We are pleased to inform you that your result is within the normal range. An A1C level below 5.7% is considered normal. This test measures your average blood sugar levels over the past two to three months and indicates that your blood sugar is currently well-controlled.

Based on this result, no changes to your current routine are necessary at this time. We recommend continuing with your healthy diet and regular physical activity to maintain these levels.

We will continue to monitor your levels during your next scheduled physical exam. If you have any questions regarding this result, please feel free to contact our office or schedule a follow-up appointment through the patient portal.

Sincerely,
