Dear [Patient Name],

We are writing to provide you with the results of your recent pregnancy blood test (hCG) performed on [Date].

At this time, your test results are inconclusive. This means that the level of hCG (the hormone produced during pregnancy) detected in your blood is currently in a range that does not clearly confirm or rule out a pregnancy.

Inconclusive results are common in the very early stages of pregnancy or can occur for various other clinical reasons. To gain a clearer understanding of your status, it is necessary to repeat the blood test to monitor if the hormone levels are increasing, decreasing, or staying the same.

Next Steps:

- Please return to the laboratory for a follow-up blood draw on [Date] at [Time].
- Ensure you continue any medications or prenatal vitamins as previously directed unless told otherwise by your physician.
- If you experience severe abdominal pain or heavy vaginal bleeding before your next appointment, please seek medical attention immediately.

We understand that waiting for a definitive result can be difficult. If you have any questions or wish to speak with a healthcare provider regarding these results, please call our office at [Phone Number].

Sincerely,
