Dear [Patient Name],

I am writing to provide you with the results of your recent blood work performed on [Date].

I am pleased to inform you that your laboratory results are within the normal range. These tests included a review of your blood counts, electrolyte levels, kidney function, and liver enzymes. All indicators suggest that your systems are functioning well, and there are no areas of immediate concern.

While these results are very reassuring, please continue to monitor your health and maintain your current wellness routine. If you are experiencing any specific symptoms that were not discussed during our last visit, or if you have questions regarding individual values on your lab report, please feel free to contact the office.

A copy of your full lab report is enclosed for your personal records.

Sincerely,

[Provider Name, Title]
