To [Patient Name],

I am writing to share the results of your recent laboratory tests performed on [Date].

I am pleased to inform you that all of your results came back within the normal range. Specifically, your [List specific tests, e.g., blood count, cholesterol, thyroid levels] look healthy and do not show any areas of concern at this time.

It is common to feel anxious while waiting for medical results, but these findings confirm that your current health markers are stable. No changes to your current treatment plan or medications are required based on these results.

Please continue with your routine follow-up care as previously scheduled. If you experience any new symptoms or have specific questions regarding these findings, please do not hesitate to contact our office.

Best regards,
