Re: Conflict of Interest Waiver for Future Litigation

Dear [Client Name],

This letter follows our discussion regarding [Law Firm Name]'s representation of [Client Name] in connection with [Describe Current Matter].

As we discussed, our firm represents many other clients. It is possible that in the future, our firm may be asked to represent a different client in a matter that is adverse to you, including litigation. Under the Rules of Professional Conduct, we require your informed consent to represent other clients in such future matters.

By signing this letter, you agree that [Law Firm Name] may represent current or future clients in matters adverse to you, provided that:

- The future matter is not substantially related to our current representation of you;
- We have not obtained confidential information from you that would be material to the future matter; and
- We implement an ethical screen to protect your confidential information if necessary.

You have the right to consult with independent counsel before signing this waiver. Your signature below indicates that you understand the potential conflicts and voluntarily waive them as described above.

Sincerely,

[Attorney Name]
[Law Firm Name]
