Re: Formal Request for Good Faith Mediation Regarding Partnership Dispute

Dear [Recipient Name],

I am writing to formally propose that we submit our current disputes regarding the partnership of [Law Firm Name] to formal mediation. As we have been unable to reach a resolution through direct discussions, I believe an impartial third-party mediator is necessary to facilitate a productive dialogue and reach a mutually beneficial settlement.

This request is made in good faith and in accordance with the dispute resolution provisions outlined in our [Partnership Agreement/Operating Agreement], specifically [Section/Clause Number, if applicable].

My primary objectives for this mediation are to address the following issues:

- [Issue 1: e.g., Allocation of firm profits and capital accounts]
- [Issue 2: e.g., Management responsibilities and decision-making authority]
- [Issue 3: e.g., Terms of partner withdrawal or firm dissolution]

I suggest that we mutually agree upon a mediator with significant experience in legal partnership disputes. I am prepared to provide a list of three potential mediators for your consideration, or I welcome your suggestions for a neutral professional.

By engaging in this process, we can avoid the significant costs, time, and public exposure associated with formal litigation, while preserving the professional reputation of the firm.

Please provide your written response to this proposal by [Date]. I look forward to your cooperation in resolving these matters efficiently.

Sincerely,

[Your Signature]
