RE: Proposal for Good Faith Resolution of Partnership Dispute - [Firm Name]

Dear [Recipient Name],

I am writing to you regarding the ongoing disagreements concerning [briefly mention core issue, e.g., firm governance, profit distribution, or dissolution terms]. It is my belief that a protracted legal battle would be detrimental to the firm's reputation, its clients, and the professional interests of all partners involved.

In the spirit of professional courtesy and mutual benefit, I am proposing that we engage in a good faith resolution process to settle these matters outside of formal litigation. My goal is to reach a fair and equitable arrangement that allows for a clean transition or restructuring while minimizing disruption to our practice.

To facilitate this resolution, I propose the following framework:

- Voluntary Mediation: That we engage a neutral third-party mediator with experience in law firm partnership disputes to facilitate a structured negotiation.
- Confidentiality: That all discussions, proposals, and documents shared during this process remain strictly confidential and inadmissible in any future proceedings.
- Information Exchange: A reciprocal, informal exchange of relevant financial or operational data necessary to validate any settlement terms.
- Standstill Agreement: A temporary pause on any formal legal filings for a period of [Number] days to allow the resolution process to proceed.

I am prepared to discuss these terms or any alternative methods of dispute resolution you may prefer. Please let me know your thoughts or provide the contact information for your legal representative by [Date] so we may schedule an initial meeting.

I look forward to resolving this matter professionally and efficiently.

Sincerely,
